

Gary Langley

By profession I am an accountant, but have mainly worked in the areas of Corporate Finance, Corporate Strategy and latterly sales. I left full time work in 2013, having been a partner at IBM consulting with responsibility for managing a pan European sales team focusing on the Telecoms sector. Prior to this I was with PwC and PW where I joined from Cable & Wireless to help set up PW's strategic consulting practice, including M&A integration, portfolio management and strategic planning.

On leaving full time employment I became a magistrate joining the bench at St Albans in Hertfordshire, where I sit in the Adult Criminal court. In addition to this I have sat on appeals at St Albans Crown Court, been responsible for interviewing potential new magistrates and acted as mentor for new magistrates appointed to the St Albans bench. I also visit schools from year 6 upwards to inform them about the criminal Justice system.

Susan and I met during our time together at PW, and have been married for over 20 years. Since, July 2018 I have acted as Susan's consort following her election to the Ward of Aldgate, and look forward to supporting Susan, the Old Bailey, judges and Mansion House through our Shrieval year from September 2023 to September 2024.

He is delighted to have been made an Honorary Colonel for the Middlesex and NW London Army Cadets
